Guide to Books for 0-5 Year-Olds

2nd edition

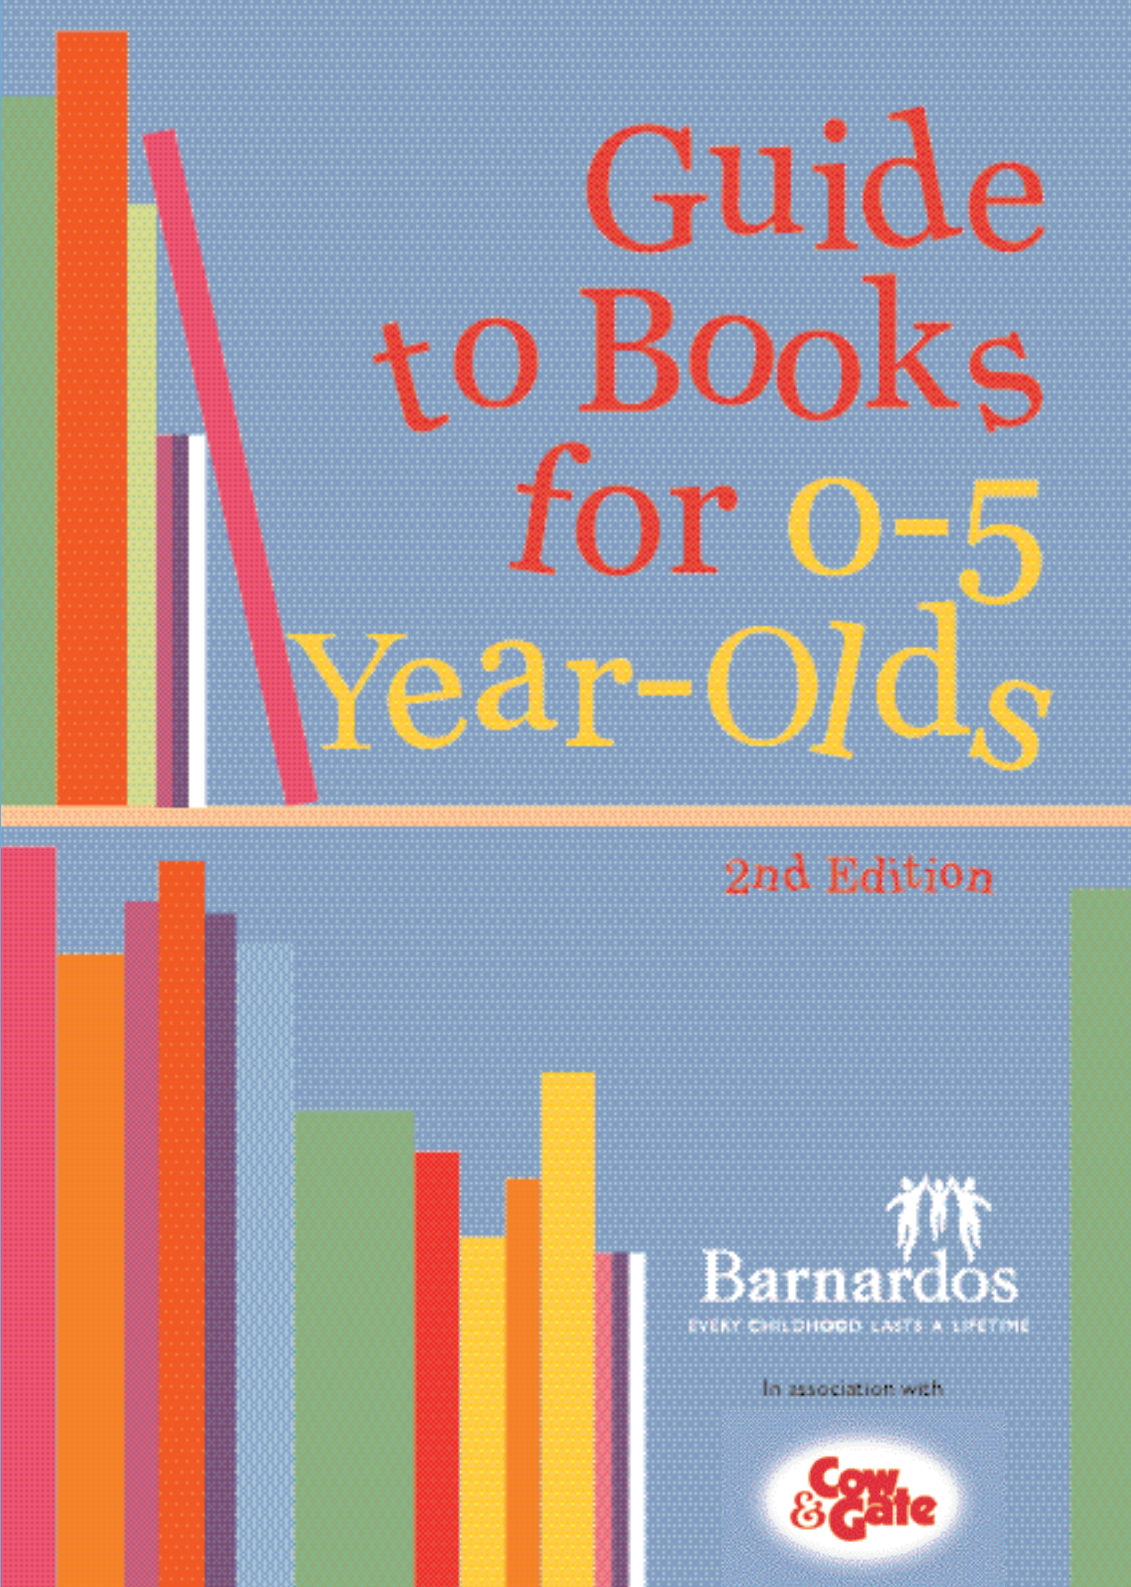

“Being read to by parents, family members, and other significant adults creates a close physical and personal bond, so children associate the satisfaction of warm human relationships with stories and reading. As the process is repeated over and over again, children also begin to make connections between the written and spoken word and to gain a sense of how to use language and tell stories.”

Guide to Books for 0-5 Year-Olds

A boy of six years recently took a holiday with his family. In his luggage were lots of toys for the journey but just two books. As it turned out, only one book was needed. Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse by Kevin Henkes, was requested and read eight times each day. This particularly engaging book was read cover to cover, back to front, and on occasion, favourite pages were chosen and read over and over. Frequently, reading had to be suspended for lengthy periods of time as the six year old and the adult collapsed in fits of giggles at previously unseen details on certain pages. Towards the end of the two-week holiday, the six year old picked up the book and read large sections of the text to himself, from memory using intonation and pausing for effect. This is the mark of a great book, it continues to surprise, delight and engage its reader, long after the pages have been creased and stuck together with blobs of jam, drops of milk and pieces of melted chocolate.

It is with enormous gratitude and sense of privilege that I accepted the request from Cow & Gate and Barnardos to choose forty new books for children aged 0 to 5 years. I have been both surprised and delighted by the volume of new books that have been published since the first edition of this guide. The books included in this guide have been chosen using the same criteria as previously applied – they are books that will delight, humour, enthrall and surprise their readers. They will be cherished for years to come and they will instil in the young reader a love for the story and its telling. Thank you for the opportunity to find such treasure.

Barbara Ryan

Lead Pre-school Worker, Barnardos, September 2004

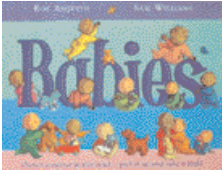

Last year, Cow & Gate received an overwhelmingly positive response to Barnardos' first-ever Guide to Books for 0-5 Year-Olds. In the internet age, it is reassuring to see that books haven't lost their amazing power to captivate and enthrall. We hope that this second edition will encourage parents, relatives and carers to open up the wonderful world of reading to the babies, toddlers and children in their care. Reading helps to stimulate young imaginations, fosters creativity and teaches children valuable lessons about life itself. We are grateful to the well-known personalities who took the time to review some of our recommendations this year with the little people in their lives.

Aileen Regan

Head of Nutrition, Cow & Gate Ireland

The books recommended in this guide are available from Irish bookshops, libraries or via the internet and are priced between €5 and €15.

Recommended Books for 0 to Toddler

BABIES

ROS ASQUITH

0 TO 2 YEARS

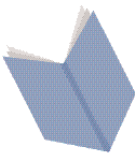

This is a perfect first book showing the many expressions of baby such as “happy” and “cross”, “wobbly” and “nibbly”. The illustrations and words are both clear and engaging, inviting interaction between baby and reader.

ISBN: 0 333962 20 6

Publisher: Macmillan

I thought I was mad trying to read a book to a 4 month old, but this book has changed my opinion completely. At that age little ones love playing and interacting with their parents and Babies encourages you to act out the script with your child, giving him/her a tickle or a cuddle when the book prompts. It's great fun, and one to be read every day just to see your child crack up in fits of giggles.

Sheana Keane, TV presenter and mum to Isabelle.

WHOSE HAT IS THAT?

RICHARD POWELL

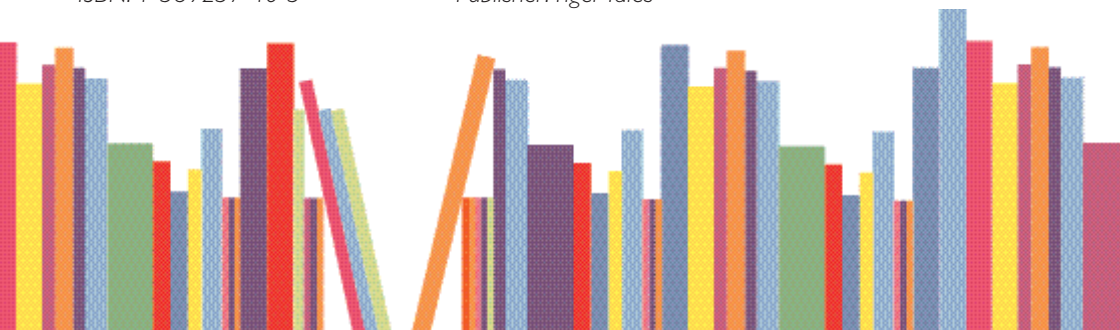

ILLUSTRATED BY ANA MARTÍN-LARRAÑAGA

Publisher: Little Tiger Press

GOSSIE
OLIVIER DUNREA
0 TO 2 YEARS

Gossie is part of a series of books by the same author that follows the days and adventures of some goslings. The books are full of charm and are beautifully drawn. The short sentences make up simple and humorous gosling stories. In Gossie one gosling has new red boots and comes up with an innovative way of sharing the boots with his friends.

ISBN: 1 844288 40 4

Publisher: Walker Books

YUMMY YUCKY
LESLIE PATRICELLI
12 MONTHS TO 2 YEARS

A delightful book, alternating such concepts as yummy and yucky, big and little, quiet and loud. The words are well reflected by the illustrations. An engaging and funny book for toddlers and parents.

ISBN: 1 405019 68 9

Publisher: Campbell Books

Dylan and Murray love books and they really enjoyed One Gorgeous Baby. With the help of The Very Hungry Caterpillar, we've been counting since they were very small. One Gorgeous Baby continues this with learning about two eyes (they laugh when you cover their eyes), right up to ten sticky fingers. Reading this type of beautifully illustrated book is fun and helps them learn new words as well as numbers. All three of us enjoyed it. Perfect for quiet-time before bed.

Cathy Kelly, author and mum to twins Dylan and Murray Sheehan, aged 1.

BABY PARADE

ARE YOU THERE BABY BEAR?

DEBI GLIORI

12 MONTHS TO 4 YEARS

A beautiful hardback book that has the qualities of simplicity and warmth as well as being the perfect length for the early reader:

ISBN: 0 862785 31 6

Publisher: The O'Brien Press

Who better to review this beautifully illustrated book than my nieces Ellen and Amy? Ellen promptly tried to read it herself and loved counting the animals. Amy was fascinated by what was under the windows. They had huge fun shouting rhymes at the top of their voices. All in all a great read for little people. The colourful characters found along the way are as interesting as baby bear being missing in the first place! The kids loved it and so did I.

Mary Kingston, RTE TV presenter and aunt to Ellen aged 3³/₄ and Amy aged 1³/₄.

MAISY'S YEAR

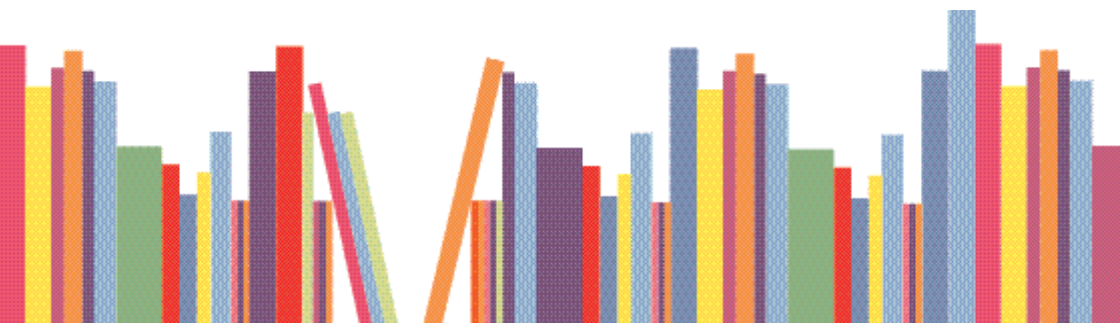

LUCY COUSINS

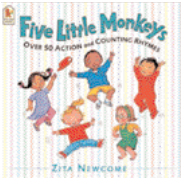

12 MONTHS TO 2 YEARS

As with all Maisy stories, Maisy's Year is engaging and delightful. All of Maisy's friends appear in this book that takes the reader on a journey through the seasons with flaps and wheels to keep the early reader engaged.

ISBN: 0 744592 48 8

Publisher: Walker Books

FIVE LITTLE MONKEYS

ZITA NEWCOMBE

0 TO 6 YEARS

A fantastic book that brings together classic and modern well-loved rhymes. This book has all you will need to join in with your child's jumping, bouncing, driving and dancing rhymes, complete with great illustrations. Wheels on the Bus and 5 Little Monkeys are among the 50 favourites.

ISBN: 0 744598 25 7

Publisher: Walker Books

Katie absolutely loved this hugely interactive book. She got so involved with the stories and put on a first class performance, dancing and jumping around to the different rhymes. Many of them were old favourites of hers and she especially enjoyed pretending to drive along while reading Wheels on the Bus. A very enjoyable reading experience for both of us!

Albert Reynolds, former Taoiseach and grandfather to Katie aged 4.

FARM 1 2 3

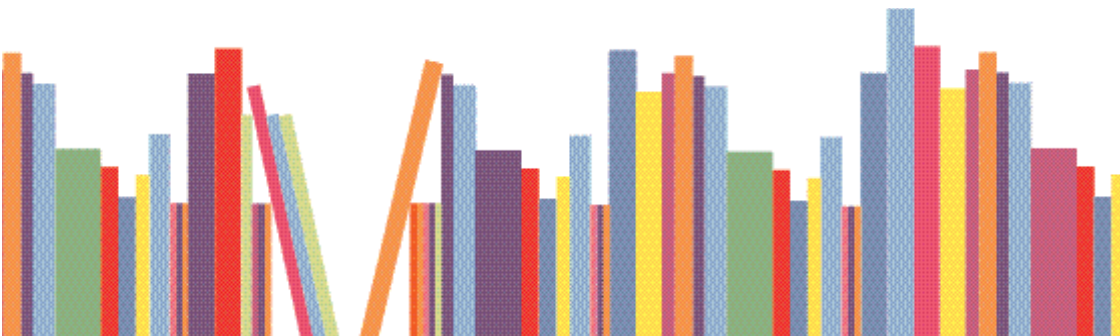

ROD CAMPBELL

0 TO 2 YEARS

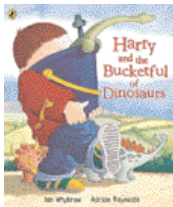

A highly recommended book of counting that combines lovely drawings and text that can be enjoyed and memorised. Children love to open the flaps and anticipate the next animal.

HARRY AND THE BUCKETFUL OF DINOSAURS

IAN WHYBROW

ILLUSTRATED BY ADRIAN REYNOLDS

3 TO 6 YEARS

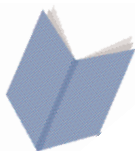

This is a must read for the child who loves dinosaurs. The boy in the story loses his beloved dinosaurs and when they are found he must name them to prove that they are his. Throughout the book the dinosaurs are well illustrated and named for the benefit of the adult who may need some dinosaur tips.

ISBN: 0 141380 97 7

Publisher: Puffin Books

This beautiful illustrated book was a big hit with Cathal, aged 3. He constantly turned back the pages to read the pictures again and again. He really liked the part where Harry has left his beloved dinosaurs on the train and is crying with his nan. The older children, Orlaith, James and Áine liked how the book "sounded-out" the big names of the dinosaurs and so did I!

Maireád McGuinness, Fine Gael MEP for Ireland East and mother of four.

THE GIRAFFE WHO CAME TO DINNER

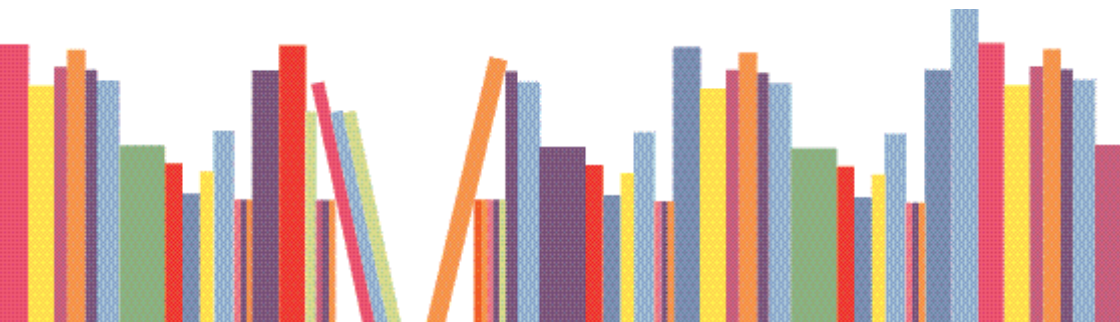

PATRICE AGGS

3 TO 5 YEARS

This book has the successful combination of bright and clear illustrations matched by humorous, engaging text.

RHYMES FOR ANNIE ROSE

SHIRLEY HUGHES

2 TO 5 YEARS

As with all books by this writer, Rhymes for Annie Rose is richly drawn and uses gentle and delightful language with baby Annie Rose as the main character in each poem. A great night-time read. All Shirley Hughes tales are highly recommended.

ISBN: 0 099464 91 8

Publisher: Red Fox

Rhymes for Annie Rose is a book that really caught the imagination of my little girls. Full of rhymes about the everyday stories in the life of Annie Rose, it appealed because her routine is so similar to their own, as it must be for so many children. The rhymes were short, simple and almost musical when read aloud – and which they quickly tried to learn themselves, so they could chant along as I read. Beautifully presented with lovely colour drawings, the true test of a book's success – that it is demanded night after night – was achieved.

Matt Cooper, broadcaster and dad to three girls, Andie (5½), Aimee (3½) and Millie (21 months) and baby boy Zach born in May 2004.

OÍCHE MHAITH A BHEIRÍN, Goodnight Little Bear

MARTIN WADDELL

“When children are immersed in an environment where oral and written communication are valued, they have a powerful desire to master language. Children learn to talk and write and read because they want to communicate with the significant people in their lives.”

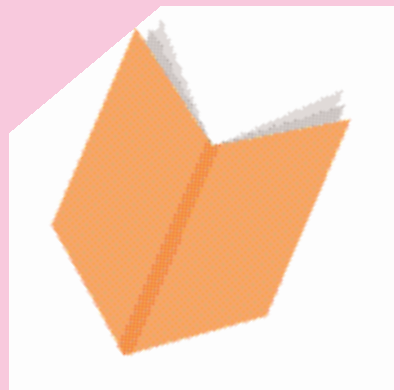

“In a climate rich in conversation and print, the complexity of children’s language will evolve naturally – at a different rate for each child.”

“Children want to communicate.”

“(The) interactions with people and materials set the stage for children to construct an understanding of talking, reading, writing – a process that begins at birth and continues to emerge throughout the preschool years.”

ABOUT BARNARDOS

Barnardos addresses the real needs of children in Ireland. Children at risk. Children struggling to cope with bereavement. Children whose lives are affected by drug abuse, violence, illness and poverty. We believe many of these problems can and must be prevented, or tackled as soon as difficulties emerge. In our experience, most families have the strengths to cope, though these strengths may be hidden. Barnardos works to identify and to strengthen families' capacities to care for their children and to build better prospects for the future.

Barnardos exists to ensure that children's needs and rights are met and understood. We work in partnership with children, parents, families, other organisations and the general public. We know that through all of us working together we can truly make a difference to children's lives now and in the future.

BARNARDOS ADVANCES THE WELFARE OF CHILDREN AND THEIR FAMILIES IN IRELAND BY:

- Providing effective services for children and families where and when they need it.
- Advocating for children's rights, the improvement of children's welfare and influencing the development of policy and provision for children.

OUR SERVICES INCLUDE

- Family Support Services
- Sólás - Bereavement Counselling for Children
- Origins - Information and Tracing Service
- National Children's Resource Centre
- Beacon - Guardian ad Litem Service
